

Mr. Oke Eleyae MSc., PGCE, CLT, MCCT.

Oke Eleyae is the Lead Consultant for KIKO Educational Ltd. An experienced educator and consultant, Mr Eleyae has worked in educational establishments in the UK for over 20 years. He has held various senior leadership and consultancy positions. He has worked as a Specialist Leader in Education, a Lead Practitioner for 'Education for gifted pupils', an Advanced Skills Teacher, Head of Science and Head of Maths. He is an expert in innovating and developing practice in whole-school teaching and learning of all learners, regardless of their ability and/or context. Over the years he has led various Continuous Professional Development sessions and has provided extensive training to schools, newly qualified and experienced teachers and leaders, as well as acting in an advisory capacity to a consortium of schools in London.

In addition, Mr Eleyae has substantial experience as an examiner to two of the main UK GCSE science exam boards, and as a private GCSE/IGCSE tutor across the sciences. He coaches and mentors teachers, parents and students and facilitates mediation between parents and schools. He also works as a school improvement partner, and provides specialist advice on school improvement issues to schools in the UK and internationally.

Prior to entering education, he worked as a researcher at the Medical Research Institute, Yaba, Lagos and at the World Health Organisation.

Mr Eleyae is a Chartered London Teacher and a founding member of the Chartered College of Teaching.

Professional Awards

- Outstanding Leader Award Jack Petchey Foundation Leader Award, Nov. 2012
- Chartered London Teacher, May 2008
- Nominee – The Teacher Award (National), 2008
- EDUA+CTION (Waltham Forest) Teacher of the Year Highly Commended Award, 2004

Outstanding contributions to improving education at Igbobi College

- Oke has been instrumental in the work to improve the quality of education at Igbobi College. As an expert in education he has devoted his time, energy, expertise and other resources to improving teaching and learning at Igbobi College. In 2013 he developed and completed an extensive 2-week programme on improving and embedding teachers' standards and professional practices at the college. He has completed numerous visits to the college providing expert support and mentoring to teaching staff including the principal. The principal has described his input as invaluable.
- Oke has been critical to the development of ICOBA Europe's Improving Education Quality at Igbobi College project including the required extensive research and writing of the full project document and ongoing technical support to the college. Oke has regularly volunteered his time freely to ICOBA Europe and has provided professional consultancy services at very heavy discounts (sometimes up to 75%) each time he is called upon to do this. His work continues in the implementation of the Educational Quality Master Plan for Igbobi College in his role as school improvement partner.
- Kiko Educational limited under the leadership of Oke, have carried out various School improvement workshop series to critical acclaim in various locations in Nigeria including Benin, Port-Harcourt, Agbor and Abuja to mention a few.

His School years at Igbobi College 73/78 set

Oke was an excellent sprinter and featured in the Igbobi College 4 X 4 relay team even as a junior boy (form 3). There was a popular saying that if Oke received the baton before any competitor you can never catch him! He drove fear into the heart of many of our sports rivals including St Gregory's College and King's college relay teams. Oke never disappointed his teeming fans. Oke comes from a formidable line of an accomplished sports family, His father Professor Eleyae being the one time National Sports Director.